

REBELS GAINED TWO IMPORTANT CITIES

Ching-Kiang and Chow Chow bkgkjjm CHING-KIANG AND CHANG CHOW CAPTURED WITHOUT DIFFICULTY.

HAS PEKING FALLEN?

Three of Admiral Chen Ping's Fleet Hoisted the Flag of Rebellion This Morning.

[BY UNITED PRESS.] Shanghai, Nov. 6.—Three Chinese gunboats, forming a part of Admiral Chen Ping's fleet, were hoisting the flag of rebellion today. Ching-Kiang, a treaty port, second in importance to Shanghai, fell this afternoon. Ching Chow, the capital of the province of Che-Kiang, was taken by the rebels yesterday.

Did Not Mean to.

[BY UNITED PRESS.] According to a United Press Dispatch the crews of the three gunboats in the Yang Tze river which put into Shanghai in ignorance of the fact that the city had passed under revolutionary control came over to the rebels today and placed the boats at the latter's disposal.

Had No Choice. The imperialists had no choice but to yield. The rest of the fleet must have followed, since it is without ammunition and can get no more without putting in at one of the rebel ports on the Yang Tze.

A Hankow. Communication with Hankow is still interrupted. It has been impossible to learn the fate of the Wessington mission and hospital and asylum for the blind, which seemed doomed at last accounts with the probable loss of the lives of their 500 inmates, by the fire sweeping the city.

Loss of Life. Reports that 50,000 persons have perished at Hankow are quoted but it seems certain that loss of life has been enormous. Fugitives from the stricken city say corpses were piled 2 or 3 feet in places from one side of street to the other.

Fifty Thousand. Since the rebellion broke it is estimated that 50,000 men, women and children have been killed in battle, massacres and fires all over the country.

Accepts Place. Shanghai, Nov. 6.—Dr. Wu, formerly Chinese minister to the United States, has accepted the post of secretary of foreign affairs under the provisional government under which Li Yung Han is head.

Foreign Soldiers. Admiral Wessington, commanding the British forces in Chinese waters, has advised the English government to send troops to China. He is understood to have suggested that each of the world powers dispatch 15,000 soldiers to Shanghai at once.

Refuses Settlement. Peking, China, Nov. 6.—General Li Yuan Hung, commander of the rebels in southern China, has refused Yung Kih Kai's proposals for a settlement of the revolutionary grievances against the throne.

Peking Captured? Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 6.—Cables today from China, a local Chinese newspaper declare that a large force of revolutionists captured Peking after a three day engagement lasting twelve hours. No details are available and there is no confirmation.

Was Duplicated. This dispatch which came to the The Hon Wai Lo, was duplicated later to all the Chinese revolutionary newspapers on the Pacific coast.

Tells of Battle. The dispatch said that after desperate street fighting between rebels and imperialists in Peking, the Manchus prince and their supporters fled from the capital. The last words of the cablegram were, "All is now peaceful," which the Chinese declare means that the revolutionists have taken the capital. Definite confirmation of these cablegrams is awaited eagerly in Chinese quarters all along the Pacific coast.

Is Confirmed. Cablegrams from Hong Kong and Shanghai confirm the fall of Peking. They say Prince Ching is a prisoner and that the emperor and regent occupied by flight.

Another City. Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—Another city was added to those in control of the Chinese revolutionists with the capture of Amoy, by the rebels, according to dispatches received at the state department late this afternoon. The city is in a state of anarchy.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New York, Nov. 6.—Many curious persons visited Part V. of the Court of Special Sessions today in the expectation of hearing some interesting testimony when the case of Harry Ulrich, accused of assault on Booker T. At the time of his arrest, Ulrich said that he had mistaken Dr. Washington for a burglar, and also that the negro had annoyed his wife. This Dr. Washington denied. He said that he was looking for the residence of the auditor of the Tuskegee Institute, of which he is the head.

Runaway Boy. The police have been asked to look for the sixteen year old boy of Mrs. Heller, living at 582 North Washington street. He is supposed to have started for Montana.

[BY UNITED PRESS.] Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—The question of intervention by the United States government to stop barbarities at Tripoli as practiced by the Italian soldiers, was put up to President Taft today following the appeal of Turkey for aid. Through the appeal from Turkey came practically in the form of a demand, made in the name of humanity, to stop the atrocities at Tripoli. It is believed that this country will be slow to act.

The state department hesitates to interfere in a European situation until after the powers more directly interested have taken such action as they see fit.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT IN MANY COUNTIES TO BE EXTENSIVE

Figures for Second Allotment of State Aid to Counties Issued by State Highway Commission.

According to the second allotment of highway aid money made by the state highway commission, a statement of which has been received by the county clerk, the amount of money which each county will receive as state aid will be $11,894 or $1,721 more than will be raised by the state tax. The amount paid into the state highway fund by this county will be $10,173 as was previously announced. This sum was arrived at by making a division of the $50,000 voted to be raised for state highway aid according to the percentage of the state tax paid by the county in 1911, which, in the case of Rock county was 2.97 per cent.

At the special meetings of the townships in this county it was voted to raise a sum of money for highway improvement which totals $14,800. From a study of the figures in the bulletin issued by the commission it is evident that the second allotment was made on a basis determined by the amount which the various counties voted to raise in their own townships. In the counties where there was an addition to be made it was found by the commission that the county was entitled to 37.2 per cent of the excess which was asked.

Figures for counties neighboring Rock are as follows: Dane—per cent, 4.63; amount paid into state highway fund, $16,211; amount petitioned for, $29,212; excess petitioned for, $13,001; second allotment $5,995; total, $21,206.

Green—per cent, 1.53; amount paid into fund, $5,385; amount petitioned, $11,725; excess, $6,340; second allotment $2,358; total, $7,743.

Jefferson—per cent, 1.55; amount paid, $6,831; amount petitioned $7,500; excess, $657; second allotment, $234; total, $7,067.

The amounts which will be raised by various towns for roads in the county are as follows:

Beloit, $1,500; Bradford, $1,000; Cedar, $1,000; Clinton, $1,000; Fulton, $1,000; Harmony, $1,000; Janesville, $800; Johnston, $800; Lima, $1,000; Monmouth, $1,000; Plymouth, $1,000; Porter, $1,000; Rock, $1,000; Spring Valley, $1,000; Tully, $1,000; Union, $1,000.

Amounts raised for bridges: Fulton $250; Beloit, $200; Johnston, Lima, Monmouth, Plymouth and Rock, each $250. Total for roads, $13,500; for bridges, $800; total asked $14,300.

CEREMONY ATTENDS THE INAUGURATION OF MADERO TODAY

Throng of Thousands Cheer As New President of Mexico Takes His Oath.—To Preserve Peace.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Mexico City, Nov. 6.—With all the pomp and ceremony, with all the glint of arms and the blare of trumpets so beloved by the Latin race, Francisco I. Madero, the second president who has occupied the seat of power in the past thirty-five years, was today inaugurated president of the republic of Mexico amid the cheers of thousands who lined the streets to watch his carriage pass.

Madero has ascended to the throne in the face of great opposition. Alleged conspirators in three different plots are now lodged in prison in different parts of the republic. General Bernardo Reyes, the aged idol, is in exile in San Antonio, awaiting only the time to step forward and lead a counter revolution against the man who overthrew him.

Guatemala in the south threatens war and the treasury is well nigh bankrupt. But in spite of all these obstacles, Madero today assumed the reins of power and in a proclamation issued just before his inauguration promised relief to war stricken Mexico.

Demand Arms. Alarmed at the reports of violence attending the Zapatista revolution and the fear that the rebels might capture and loot this city, the British government, through their consul here, instructed all English residents to demand arms from the Madero government for their own protection. The instructions further state that if the arms are not forthcoming, England will take it on herself to provide them through the local consulate.

CORONER BELIEVES PROOF WAS FOUND

CERTAIN ARSENIC CAUSED DEATH OF RICHARD T. SMITH.

INVESTIGATE FURTHER

Will Have Bodies of Other Alleged Victims of Mrs. Vermilya Examined and Examined.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Chicago, Nov. 6.—So fully convinced is Coroner Hoffman that the greenish appearance of the liver in the viscera of Richard T. Smith, whose body was exhumed Saturday for examination, denotes the presence of arsenic that today he planned to exhumate the remains of Fred Blinckup, former husband of Mrs. Vermilya.

Woman Improves. Meantime, the woman whom the police suspect of wholesale poisoning, is steadily improving from an overdose of arsenic, self administered by mistake, according to Mrs. Vermilya, with suicidal intent, according to the police.

Step-Son's Body. It was learned also that the police expect to exhumate the body of Frank Blinckup, Mrs. Vermilya's step-son. He died about a year ago at Burlington, Ill., after a short illness.

Wonderful Nerve. Mrs. Vermilya is maintaining her remarkable nerve in the face of the accusations by the police that she is connected with the mysterious deaths of nine relatives and friends.

A Temporary Court. Her house of mystery transformed temporarily into a court of justice by the attendance of Judge Walker, States Attorney Wayman and a guard of policemen, Mrs. Louise Vermilya was today formally arraigned on the charge of murder by poison of Arthur Blinckup, one of the nine persons whose intimacy with the woman resulted in mysterious death.

Woman Weak. Weak from the dose of arsenic which she took last Saturday, by mistake she declares, with suicidal intent according to the police, the woman lay propped up in bed with an attorney at her side. Owing to her condition no testimony was taken, and no plea entered. Hearing was continued until November 28.

Formal Step. The formal step of serving the warrant on the woman was taken after the police had examined Mrs. Elizabeth Nolan, formerly a confidante of the woman and fiancée of Frank Blinckup, Mrs. Vermilya's stepson, who detailed a remarkable picture, of the death of three of the persons whom the prosecuting attorney think paid with their lives the penalty of association with Mrs. Vermilya.

Was Safe to Act. Police Captain Harding was assured this afternoon that the woman's condition was so greatly improved that she might be removed from her home to the hospital of the county jail this evening. Meanwhile four policemen and a nurse guard the woman.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Margaret Allen.

The last rites over the remains of the late Mrs. Margaret Allen were said yesterday afternoon, services being conducted at the home, 115 E.
Third street at two o'clock, and at Trinity Episcopal church one-half hour later. The Rev. Father Henry William was the officiating clergyman.

The wide acquaintance and the high esteem in which the deceased was held was made evident in the large attendance, the church being filled, and also in the elaborate and very numerous floral tributes. The pall bearers were A. P. Burnham, Judge C. L. Mc-Field, F. L. Clemens, W. S. Jeffries, Al.
Schaller and Henry Garbutt. The remains were buried in Oak Hill cemtery. Those from out of the city who attended the funeral were George H. Allen of Columbus, Ohio, and A. J.
Allen and wife of Oakbrook, the governor being sons of the deceased.

An interesting circumstance in connection with the life of the latter is that she was baptised, married and buried from the same church.

son, Dr. Burton Morgan, near Steele-that the change of climate would benefit him and also in order that his son might give him the medical attention that he required.

The deceased was eighty-four years old and had lived in Janesville a long time. He came to Janesville from near Whitewater where he owned two large farms. He was elected county clerk for Rock county and served several terms, also holding other public offices.

Surviving him are his aged wife,
two sons, Harold of Whitewater and Dr. Burton Morgan, a prominent physician of St. Louis, as well as a number of grandchildren, some of whom live in this city.

Mr. Morgan will be mourned by many friends, won to him by his kindly ways and straightforwardness in business.

JOHN PLOWRIGHT IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

One of City's Oldest and Most Respec-
ed Citizens Passed Away Sunday Morning After a Short Illness.

John Plowright, a resident of Janesville for fifty-five years, one of the most respected citizens and prominent business men, passed away at his home, 238 South Franklin street, Sunday morning shortly after six o'clock.
He had been ill for five days with pneumonia.

Mr. Plowright was born in Lincolnshire, England, November 10, 1835.
When a young man barely twenty years of age he left his home in England to seek his fortune in the land of promise beyond the seas. Upon landing in New York he came almost directly to Wisconsin, settling here in the year 1855, only a few years after the admission of Wisconsin as a state.

His entire life since that time has been spent in this city. He was one of those sturdy pioneers through whose unfiring efforts the city has been able to prosper. Ever since his locating here until his recent illness he has been actively engaged in business, and was one of the veteran business men of the city.

Soon after coming to this city he engaged in the cigarage business, the firm then being known as Plowright and Norton. Later he was the senior member of the firm of Plowright and McGuire, in the coal and wood business, and later he became sole owner of the business. Some years ago he received his son-in-law, W. W. Menzies, into the firm to relieve him of the more active duties.

Mr. Plowright was a man of sterling character and worth and was highly esteemed by his many friends and acquaintances. Some forty-six years ago he was united in marriage, but his wife preceded him in death three years ago. He was a devoted husband and kind father to his five daughters and one son who survive: Mrs. W. T.
Seefeldt; Mrs. W. W. Menzies; Mrs.
R. L. Brown of this city; Mrs. C. A.
Stanion of Beloit; Mrs. M. B. Bennett of Salem, Wash.; and Ben Plowright, of Menasha, Wis.

He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Chas.
Doubleday who has made her home with him for some time past and who at present, is seriously ill at the residence.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from the home, Rev. T. D. Williams officiating.

On account of the illness of Mrs.
Doubleday only the relatives and immediate friends of the deceased will be present at the funeral.

LITTLE MILDRED SMITH
CELEBRATES A BIRTHDAY

Tenth Anniversary Duly Remembered
With Gathering of Thirty-five or Forty Little People.

Miss Mildred Smith, daughter of Mrs. May C. Smith, 203 Jefferson avenue, is celebrating between thirty-five and forty of her young friends this afternoon from 4 to 7:30 o'clock. The event is the occasion of her tenth anniversary and is in the nature of a Haloween party, the rooms being decorated with fall leaves and Jack-o-lanterns. Supper was served at five o'clock and the little ones enjoyed themselves with music and games.

Her Quess.

One of the recent candidates for position as librarian in the New York public library wrote on her examination paper in answer to a question regarding the novels of Low Wallace that his principal work was "Her Ben."

WILL WELCOME NEW AND SPEED DEPARTING PASTOR

United Brethren Church Gives Reception Tomorrow Night for the Reverend L. A. McIntyre and T. J. Roberts.

The congregation of the United Brethren church will give a reception tomorrow evening for its new pastor the Rev. T. J. Roberts, which will also be in the nature of a farewell party for their departing pastor, the Rev.
L. A. McIntyre. A short program will be given, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, after which refreshment, consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee will be served. All members and friends of the church are invited.

Spoke From Experience.

Farmer B—was sitting in the country church. He had been working hard in the harvest field; hands were scarce, and Farmer B—was doing the loud tones of the minister failed to arouse the farmer, until at length the time waning, the good man closed the lids of the Bible and concluded as follows: "Indeed, my hearers, the harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few." "Yes," exclaimed Farmer B—, "I've offered two dollars a day for cradlers and can't get 'em at that."

Children and the Stage.

Blanche Bates, the actress, says that if one must choose between sending a child to the factory or the stage, choose the stage by all means. However, she thinks the work is very hard for a child, making trains, travelling by night and so on, and she would not have children on the stage unless they must earn bread for the family.

Self-Made Men.

Of course everybody likes and respects self-made men. It is a great deal better to be made in that way than not to be made at all.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

MORE TESTIMONY FOR TONA VITA

Cleveland People Are Strong in Their Praise For New Medicine.

John Cole, of 2812 Trenton St., made the following statement recently in connection with "Tona Vita," the medicine that is now being introduced with such great success in Cleveland.

Mr. Cole said: "I have been sick for nine years; have been nervous and run down, and have had constant stomach trouble and rheumatism."

"I have never known just what was the matter with me. I slept poorly, and my sleep did me little good. I felt tired out most of the time, and was always nervous and despondent. I seldom had a good appetite and when I did eat, felt bloated from gas, and would taste the food for hours afterwards. For three years rheumatism has bothered me all the time, and at times caused me much pain."

"I got some 'Tona Vita' ten days ago and have taken it regularly since;
there is no other medicine equal to
it; the first dose helped me; every day
I have become stronger and better."

now feel as well as I did ten years ago. I seem to get nourishment from my food, and no longer have stomach trouble or feel so tired and depressed.
The rheumatic pains have left me and I feel like a different person in every way. I am 64 years old, and think it wonderful to have got back my health at this age after being sick so long."

The physicians who are introducing "Tona Vita" in Cleveland are giving demonstrations of what the medicine will do in five minutes, and the Cleveland public are flocking to the store where they are located. One of the physicians said: "Tona Vita" will break all records in this country;
people are just beginning to realize what a great preparation it is here in Cleveland. Thousands upon thousands in this and other large cities are afflicted with general debility.
The entire system becomes affected in such cases and nervousness, stomach trouble, headache, backache,
dyspepsia and loss of vitality result. "Tona Vita" will work wonders in such cases in a remarkably short time."

Smith Drug Co. have secured the agency for "Tona Vita" in Janesville and now have the remarkable tonic for sale.

Her Vain Longing.

Ethel, aged five, had spent nearly the whole morning in trying to win the companionship of her brother. He, however, was all engrossed in his top, which he had just learned how to spin, and, therefore, superbly indifferent to his little sister. Finally she —could bear her loneliness no longer,
and, running to her mother, said:
"Please, mamma, I've decided that I want to be a boy. Do you suppose it's too late now?"

Would Be Something New.

Four men, aged respectively 91, 91,
90 and 86, recently have died in Battle, Sussex. At this rate "died in Battle" soon will be a synonym for longevity.—Birmingham (Eng.) Post.

MERCER CAPT. OF PENN.

PENNSYLVANIA PREPARES TO MEET MICHIGAN.

Philadelphia, Pa. Football interests will be centered on the Michigan game when Pennsylvania meets its Western opponent at Ann Arbor, Michigan, on November 18th. Captain Mercer will lead the Pennsylvania eleven.

BACKBONE OF BROWN UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL TEAM.

William E. Sprackling, Captain and quarterback of the Brown University football team for 1911 and four strong contenders for the team. Sprackling made the All-American team last year and is said by certain critics to be the best quarterback in college today. His particular forte are in using a clear head at all times and in dodging, running back, and accurate kicking.

DOCKSTADER'S MINSTRELS.

Low Dockstader, the chief mogul of monologues and the king pin of minstrel organizers, in conjunction with his associate comedians, sweet voiced singers and nimble dancers, will entertain the local playgoers at Myers Theater, Wednesday, November 15.

He has been drawing capacity houses everywhere this season, and will undoubtedly be greeted with a packed house when he appears here. "Sail O'Brien" is ready with the show, acting as chief aid of the popular Low. There will be a street parade at noon, and Roy Campbell will start from atop the Myers Theater, accompanied by Dockstader's band from the street.

SOUSA AND HIS BAND.

Sousa has found time not only to conduct his band over 9,000 times in Stephen." Sousa and his band will give one concert here Saturday night, Nov. 18, at Myers Theater.

"MERRY MARY."

"Merry Mary," which appears at the Myers Theater, Tuesday, November 7, is one of the most successful comedies ever written, having just closed a long run at the Whitney Opera House, Chicago. With no situation overdrawn or impossible characters in the play, it keeps the audience in one continual roar of laughter from the start to the finish. In conjunction with the comedy many clever musical numbers are introduced, including, "Hip, Hip Hooray, My Wedding Day," "I Love No One But You," "It's Just Your Way," "The Summery Girls," "Merry Mary," and many others, and if one doesn't go away whistling some of these airs, there is certainly something wrong with their whistler.

Among the notable players are Horace Gibson, Ruby Rathner, Marie Felter, Helen E. Wilson, Jack Kenyon, Edwy Martin, Willard Jarvis, Thomas S. Horn and the famous Tuxedo chorus.

Manager Burke has spared no expense to make this the play of the season.

"PAID IN FULL."

"Paid in Full," C. S. Primrose's new production will be seen at Myers Theater, Saturday, November 11, matinee and evening. Acton Davies, the well known writer, says of the play:

"After all, if the play is really the thing, then there's a new 'thing' in town. It's called 'Paid in Full,' by Eugene Walter; it has taken anchor at the Astor Theater, and there it is going to remain for an indefinite period. 'Paid in Full' scored an immense success last night—one of the season's triumphs. Its simplicity and its originality, all told in its favor. Here at last was a young American playwright brave enough to dramatize a familiar flat and its occupants; he had his theme taken right out of every day life on the upper West side and played it practically the same way.

AVERAGE WEIGHT OF BRAIN

Professor Frederick W. Mott Gives Difference Between Savages and Races Long Civilized.

Professor Frederick W. Mott, lecturing before the Royal Institution of Great Britain on "The Brain," said that, although in 88 per cent. of the cases in which the brains of great men had been weighed the weight was above the average, brain weight itself did not always mean brain quality.

When there was lack of the functioning tissue, the lecturer explained, the structural material might receive more than its normal share of nourishment and the extra weight be due to overgrowth of "brain scaffolding." This accounted for the very large and heavy brains sometimes found in congenital idiots. Pointing out that the brain weight of a race long civilized surpassed that of aborigines, the lecturer stated that whereas the ordinary European hospital patient had a heavier brain than a savage, the Chinese coolie laborer's brain, developed by centuries of use, weighed 1½ ounces more than that of the European hospital patient.

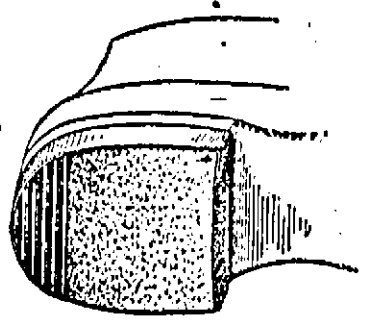

Referring to the relative brain weights of Caucasian men and women, Professor Mott said that the female brain had a good start, weighing nearly 1½ ounces more than the male brain at birth. In adult life, however, the average man's brain weighed about 5½ ounces more than the woman's.

The average weight of the European male brain is 2 pounds 15 ounces 9 drams to 2 pounds 16 ounces 9 drams, and of the female brain 2 pounds 10 ounces 14 drams. Among savages there was not this difference, since in the struggle for existence the female had to apply her brain as fully as the male, hence it was developed at practically the same rate.

RUBBER HEEL IS DETACHABLE

kagement with the heel of a boot or shoe. The inventor provides a rubber heel together with means whereby it may be securely held in position on the heel, a rubber heel being provided with an extending engaging means whereby it may be positioned on the heel. A perspective view is given in the illustration, showing the heel in position with the fastening means. The device is adaptable for use in cases where one may desire the rubber heel at some times during the day and its removal at another time. The fastening means comprises a bolt member having inwardly extending portions and it is formed of resilient metal.

Temperature of Hats.

The inside temperature of men's hats was among the interesting illustrations at the Dresden Hygienic exposition. In the sun, with an external temperature of 96.8 degrees F., the inside of a yacht club cap showed 98.6 degrees; a Prussian helmet, 97.7 degrees; an English cap, 94.1 degrees; a black derby hat, 92.3 degrees; a high silk hat, 89.6 degrees; a soft white felt hat, 86 degrees; a light straw hat, 79.9 degrees; a Panama hat, 77.9 degrees.

reaches the half century mark and the most of them expire in a generation, and when they go out they leave stranded a lot of victims who are unable to get other insurance.

The Bankers' Life had liabilities of $500,000,000, and a reserve fund of some $8,000,000. The Royal Arcanum has liabilities of $500,000 and a reserve of about $5,000,000. A single epidemic would wipe out these small reserves and leave the companies stranded.

The average fraternal society has no reserve fund, but simply lives from hand to mouth. There ought to be a federal law prohibiting this kind of insurance, because failure is inevitable, and injustice is always done to surviving members.

THE LIBRARY REST ROOM.

The Library Board is to be commended for planning to open a smoking and rest room for men, and if any financial aid is needed there isn't an employer in the city who would not cheerfully aid in the work.

It is the first intelligent, organized effort to meet the saloon on its own ground by providing a clean and wholesome place for men to get together and spend a leisure hour. It ought to include a lunch room and innocent games, as well as reading.

The average man is not a close reader. When he has absorbed the daily press and spent a little time with the magazines, he is satisfied and ready for something else. But the average man is a social being, and he turns to the club room or saloon for companionship.

The time will come when the reorganized church, strengthened by abolishing imaginary lines, and coming together on the broad platform of serving the Master by more intelligently serving humanity, will keep open house seven days in the week and providing places of rest and entertainment for fellow travelers.

Many people have the notion that they serve the Lord by attending church on Sunday, but that is a false notion of service. The tired toiler goes to his home at the close of the day for rest and comradeship in the choicest circle known to humanity. He serves the little group at home from morning until night, six days in the week.

This is true of the Lord's service. Its highest mission is accomplished in the great arena where men and women struggle for existence and where the helping hand is often needed. The sanctuary is for rest and worship. It can contribute to service by opening wide its doors and winning men and women by helping them in their struggles and lightening their burdens.

The library experiment will be watched with interest. The plan has been a success in other cities and it will be successful here.

There seems to have been a change of sentiment in Janesville on the commission plan of government, and many taxpayers are of the notion that the time is ripe to make another effort. The Gazette invites discussion either for or against the plan. It is only a matter of time when this system will be generally adopted by the inland cities of the country, as the record of success already established is a strong argument in its favor.

Aviator Rodgers has made the trip from coast to coast without serious accident, and is to be congratulated. While the science is still in its infancy, Rodgers has helped to solve some of the problems, and the right of way is so free from obstructions and so simple, that in time it may become a rival to surface transportation.

Dr. Cook has abandoned his European lecture tour, and is on his way home to entertain his friends on this side the water. The doctor may find it necessary to write another book.

THE OLD FASHIONED PARLOR. O, what has become of the old fashioned parlor? The old fashioned parlor my infancy knew. Its old horse hair sofa and plush covered album; The pride of the family when it was new?

O, what has become of the old-fashioned what-not, Which held an assortment of fossilized junk; Enough bonds and sea shells and bits and pieces of various kinds to fill up a large trunk?

O, what has become of the old-fashioned portraits That frowned on us sternly as though they would speak?

And chide us for entering that sacred sanctum Excepting upon the first day of the week?

O, where are the name-plates they took from the caskets And hung on the wall for posterity's sake?

O, where is the old fashioned parlor so gloomy, To go in alone made the children all quaky?

They kept it locked up every day except Sunday And when we had company coming to tea.

The flowers made of wax stood within the glass cases, A beautiful, cheerful and rare sight to see.

We never dared laugh or crack jokes in the parlor, And whispered and breathed an occasional sigh.

As we gazed upon the name-plates and the pictures And wondered who would be the next one to die. We talked of poor John and poor old Uncle Peter; Poor Aunt Anastasia, poor Jim and poor Bill.

It seemed like a meeting house, there in the parlor. For it was so sanctified, proper and still. O, what has become of the old-fashioned parlor? It seems to be something nobody can tell. It's gone with the day of the hoop-skirt and truly, The new fashioned parlor suits me just as well.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Percy—You say when you arrived at home the other evening you found but one chair in the parlor and didn't know what to make of the circumstances. Don't worry, Percy, old chair, she isn't yuh.

Lodge Brother—We are not able to tell you who the oldest Mason is. It is a question that has troubled the world for many years and has sent many a good man to the Ananias club. Every time a new oldest Mason pops up, fourteen older ones dispute him and prove their claims. Like perpetual motion it is a question that is liable to remain unsolved for some time.

ACCORDING TO UNCLE ABNER.

It is rumored that the Silver Cornet band will give a concert at the town hall in the near future, but it is not known whether this is to be considered as a treat or a promise. The last time the band gave a concert the air pressure from within was so great that all of the windows of the town hall were blown out. The town council is of the opinion that if the band feels that they must give concerts to get the music out of their systems they should give 'em in the open air where there is more room for the music to disperse.

Tryin' to be on the square with some people ain't hardly worth while. Duane Prince refused to prosecute when Bud Hicks stole his mule and sold it, and the next day Bud went back and stole the harness.

Things are divided pretty near eke in this world. The homeliest fellows are generally the millionaires.

There is one thing about a pretty woman that we always admire and that is her face.

The most unfortunate victim of circumstances that we know of is a fool, taller with a red nose.

Every feller's automobile is the best one that he made.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

TO AN OLD MAN.

There's Job.

His story is the greatest drama ever written. And incidentally—

The story shows the deference that in his day was paid to old men—and how far we have moved from that treatment of the aged.

Job was the millionaire of his day, his swollen fortune consisting of land and herds.

Nevertheless—

Because a couple of old fellows—Eliphaz and Zaphor—were his seniors, and the respect for age was high, Job was compelled to sit tight and endure his "comforters."

"With us," said they, "are both the gray haired and very aged men much older than thy father."

And Job meekly replied, "With the ancient is wisdom, and in length of days is understanding."

When Eliphaz, the younger, broke into the discussion he apologized profusely, and confessed, "I am young, and ye are very old, wherefore I was afraid and durst not show my opinion."

Much water has passed under the bridge since Job's day.

The wisdom of the ancients—except in China or Hindustan—is mostly esteemed a back number. Length of days does not necessarily go with understanding.

The old man of to-day is fortunate if he can hold on to the tail end of progress. Experience, once valuable, is out of date.

Once a man was wise as a wagon maker; now his son operates a factory that makes only hubs. Formerly the doctor treated typhoid fever, cut off legs and pulled teeth; his son is a "specialist."

Still in driving an ox team he knows nothing in the steering of an automobile.

What is needed today more than experience is the initiative to do and dare.

Job no longer keeps still before the elder Eliphaz and Zaphor. It is the old who sit tight nowadays.

Nevertheless—

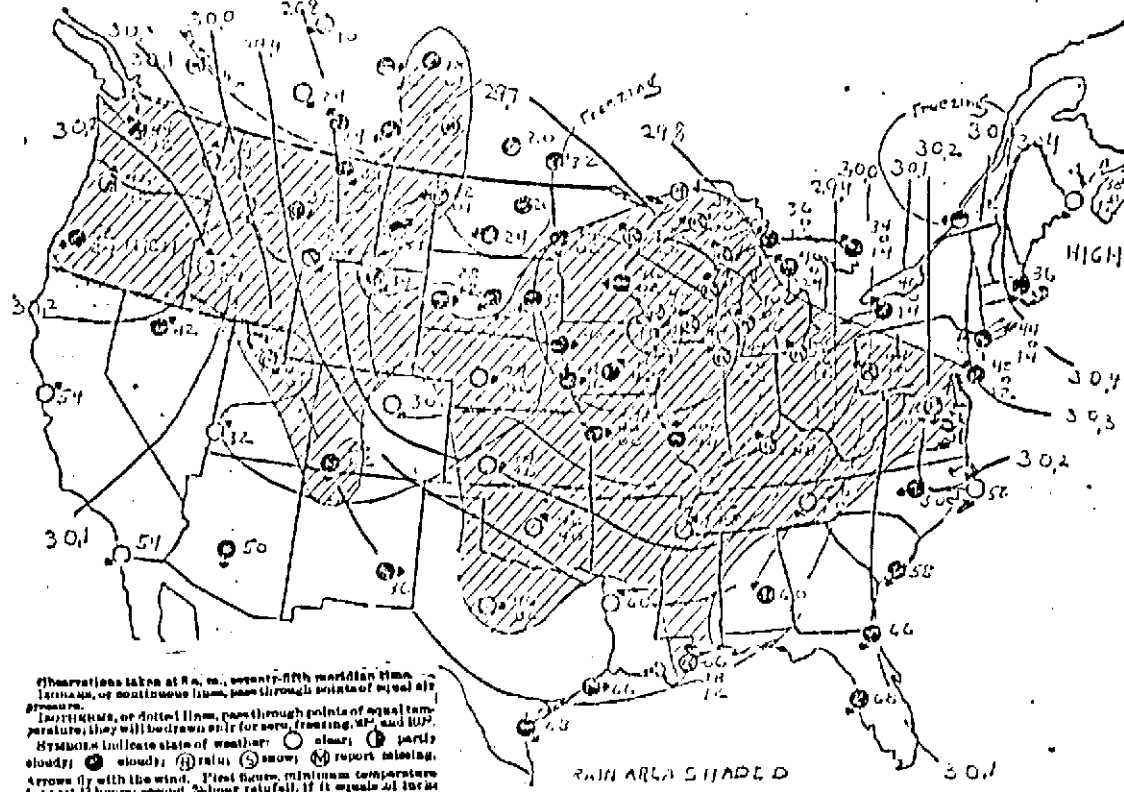

If the world lately calls you old in order to send you to your chimney corner, don't go. Stay up in front with the hard wagon, rheumatism or no. Job needs you.

TONY WAS SATURATED INSIDE AND OUTSIDE

Fell Into Spring Brook While Intoxicated—Dried Out at Police Station But Got Soaked Again.

Thoroughly saturated, soaked to the skin externally by falling into Spring Brook, and internally by strong waters, Tony Dornie, an Italian workman, employed at the sugar factory was found lying in the road Saturday afternoon near Duane's brewer at the foot of South Main street. He was discovered by two pump and well repairmen who were returning from the country. As they were not able to discover his identity by looking in that neighborhood they looked him into their rig and brought him to the police station. There he was warmed up and dried out, but as he could speak hardly any English, the police were unable to find out any other fact than that he worked at the sugar factory. Yesterday afternoon his friends called for him and took him home. Tony escaped from their supervision and became intoxicated a second time. He was picked up by the police on Franklin street and was arraigned before Judge Fifield this morning and received a sentence of seven days in jail.

Charles Meyers a sojourner in the city, who claimed he was employed on a farm between this city and Milton Junction was arrested Saturday night for intoxication and let go, but yesterday he was arrested a second time for repeating the offense. He stated in defense that he took the whiskey for a week stomach. He received seven days.

Sara Porter, a new comer in the municipal court, was given a five-day sentence in default of a fine of $2 and costs. He is a farm hand from near Clinton.

REASONS WHY

You should invest your surplus money in MORTGAGE LOANS and not in bond issues.

Millions of dollars in bonds have been repudiated.

Interest rates are too low for you to invest in bond issues.

Too much time is required to investigate the legality of bond issues.

In case of default on municipal bonds years are required to recover judgment.

If you are a citizen of the community, you help to pay your own security.

If you buy a mortgage loan you own the property on one only condition—that the debt is paid when due.

In case of default you get your security in a short space of time, without further expense to you.

In case of mortgage loan the investment is direct and simple and is subject to your control.

WAS AUTOMOBILE A PILFERED MACHINE?

Sherriff Hanson was notified this morning of the abandonment of a newly new Ford automobile near the farm of David Jones on the Emerald Grove road. The auto had evidently been left some time during Saturday night as it was discovered by Mr. Jones on Saturday morning. It had been left in an old tobacco shed near the road and it bore an Illinois tag. The number on the car is 23644. Two parties in the car were seen by some farmer along the road and in the party were two men and two women. They walked to Avalon and there boarded the train, without purchasing a ticket of the local agent. Whether the people had taken the car out for a joy ride or had broken down is not as yet determined and the car is still there awaiting the owner.

EXHIBITION WILL SHOW ADVANTAGES OF ENTIRE CITY

Coming Show at the West Side Rink Will Demonstrate That Janesville is a Busy Place.

Few residents of Janesville realize that this city is one of the largest "small" manufacturing cities of the state. Its products are to be found on the markets of the whole world and the coming exhibition of "Made in Janesville" goods at the West Side rink the week of November 20th, will demonstrate wonders to those who are not thoroughly acquainted with home-made products.

Secretary Lane has worked hard over the preliminaries for the big show and in speaking of it, today, said:

"Janesville is an established manufacturing center and the object of this coming exhibition is to give the public generally a more thorough knowledge of Janesville made goods."

"Do you know that the manufactured product of Janesville in 1910 amounted to seven and one-half million dollars?"

"A visit to this annual event will enlighten as well as surprise you. The progress made by Janesville manufacturers from year to year is remarkable. The last government report gives Janesville an increase of 40 per cent in manufactured products."

"During this exhibition several of the manufacturers will give a practical demonstration."

"The hall will be open every afternoon and evening, and there will be a band concert every evening by the Flower City band. There will be a guessing contest for all who attend with cash prizes of $25 for first, $15 for second, and $10 for third."

"There is no admission fee charged and the exhibit, which opens on the 20th Monday, will not close until Saturday evening, giving all an opportunity to attend. The guessing contest will add interest to the affair and as it is necessary to deposit the numbers guessed, at the show itself, it will tend to bring out a larger attendance."

"TALK TO LOWELL" HAS BEST BARGAIN

Offer of Stoves for 75 Cents by E. W. Lowell Wins Best Bargain Award of Last Monday's Gazette.

The offer of E. W. Lowell of air tight stoves for 75 cents, was awarded the first place on the Best Bargain page of The Gazette last week by a committee consisting of three ladies from the Ladies' Aid of the United Brethren church. The bargain was one which was of benefit to a great number and on an article which was reasonable and of use to many at this time of the year.

This was a feature of last week's bargain page. The fact that all of the offers were of reasonable articles that could be put to good use at this season of the year. On the ground that this was the most serviceable and that it would appeal to the greatest number, the committee picked this one from all of the good ones.

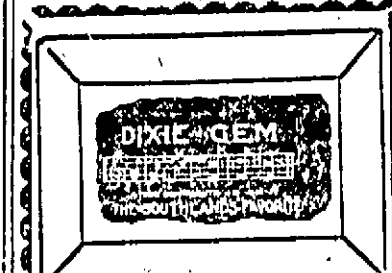

Tonight the page is again full of tempting and appealing offers, each and every one as good as those of last week. The committee this week consists of three ladies from Lodge 171 of the Daughters of Rebecca.

NEW KIND OF NIGHTCAP

Has Comb in Front and Keeps Millady's Hair in Shape.

Nightcaps were thought to have gone out of use, except by ladies of the old school, but now a Colorado woman suggests one that is designed for use by the young and frivolous of her sex. As neither frivolity nor vanity are a matter of age, some instructions for spinsters of ripe age may be induced to wear the cap. It is nothing more or less than a hair-guard. A wire frame fits around the forehead and reaches down to the nape of the neck. In front of this frame is a comb, which is inserted under the front hair and keeps the cap from slipping. A fabric covers the frame and extends over the top of the head and down to the nape of the neck, where it is fastened under the knot of hair in the back by means of tapes. This toilet cap will protect coiffures created either at the expense of a professional or at the cost of much of millady's time, from the disastrous effects of rolling on them at night.

YUAN SHIH KAI
NEW PREMIER OF CHINA.

The new Premier of China appointed as a conciliatory measure to the revolutionists has accomplished wonders even under the old government. H. H. Yuan Shih Kai has for years been fighting for the uplift and improvement of his native land. As advisor to the throne he was the leading spirit in the opium reform movement. For years he has been introducing modern military methods, modern education and other great reforms in China.

He is practically a self-made man and has risen by sheer merit from the lowest grade of life to the top of "Red Button" class. Said one foreign attaché "You forget to think of him as a Chinaman" or that he is in any way different from the rest of us. He is just a smart man.

Table Talk.
"The more I see of men, the more I like dogs," declared the pessimistic boarder. "Have some sausage, Mr. Wombat," suggested the landlady.—Washington Herald.

Helen Most Popular Name.
Statistics have been amassed by some one in a girls' college, where there is an enrollment of 1,600. Of this number more than 100 have the name of Helen, which means light. Mary came second with less than 90. Then followed Margaret, Ruth, Florence and Elizabeth in that order. Old-fashioned names are frequent. There are still many Hopes and Dorothys, and a few Ediths and Penelopes, but Abigail, Huldah and Hepzibah seem to have outlived their popularity in America.

Keep Milk Cold
and Clean

Very close attention is required in order to keep milk pure and sweet. This applies to the dairyman, the distributor, the housekeeper, etc., alike until the milk is used in ultimate consumption. But no matter how careful you may be in your own home with your milk supply—if it has not received the proper attention before reaching you; all of your efforts will be of no avail. The point is know ALL about the milk you buy.

Our Pasteurized Milk is safe—every possible precaution is exercised in its distribution. It is "perfectly pasteurized"—automatically sealed and capped and distributed in a most sanitary manner.

If you are undecided in the selection of a milkman, why not be guided by about 90% of the families in the city and take our Pasteurized Milk. There are several thousand bottles sold daily—surely such an overwhelming preference for any one brand of milk must be good evidence that our milk is the best. There are many other "reasons why" which we will tell you later; until then why not try a daily supply for a week. One of our sanitary wagons will call on time every day.

AGED ARE HONORED AT CHURCH SERVICE

Eight Old People Over Eighty Year Mark at Special Service Given by Milton S. D. B. Church.
[Special to the Gazette.]

Milton, Wis., Nov. 6.—A very impressive special service for the aged, was held at the Seventh Day Baptist church, Saturday morning. All persons over eighty years of age, of whom there were about twenty, were seated in easy chairs in front. The church was elaborately decorated with green and white bunting and cord, and with white carnations, these also being worn by the honored ones. Special music was a pleasing feature of the occasion.

Old hymns, treasured since childhood, were sung by the choir, among whom was Mr. B. J. Clarke, who led the choir forty years ago, and four others who sang at that time. Pastor Randolph's sermon was enjoyed by all present, and at the close he sang a solo accompanying himself on the guitar.

Personal.

W. H. Whitford, a former Milton boy, of Independence, Kans., visited his father, Prof. Albert Whitford, and other relatives Saturday and Sunday.

CASCARETS CLEANSE
LIVER AND BOWELS

No Bilelessness, Headache, Sick, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Coated Tongue or Constipation.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give you a thorough cleansing inside and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated. Don't forget the children—bated, and never know a miserable mother little besides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Olive Trees Centuries Old.
Olive trees of Syria live to a great age. Some, known to be over 4,000 years old, are still in a flourishing condition and likely to bear fruit for many years to come.

Effort That Is Foolish.
Many splendid natures have been made absolute cyphers by their efforts to become something they were never intended to be.

In the Patient, Perhaps.
The Surgeon—"What the Dickens have I done with my eye-glasses?" His Wife—"Are you sure you did not perform an operation for appendicitis this morning?"—Polo Melo.

Value of Farms of United States.
It is estimated that the farms of the United States with all they contain in the way of live stock and improvements are worth about $30,000,000,000.

Curious.
A curious thing about automobiles is that whenever one of them turns turtle a chorus girl or two are likely to be found under it.

Faculties.
Remember at anything that shall befall thee to turn to thyself and seek what faculty thou hast for making use of it.—Epictetus.

THE (42) BEST BARGAINS FROM OUR (42) BUSIEST STORES

Read Why

We are publishing this extraordinary page of specials

This paper has been studying for some time past the relative importance, interest and appeal the "advertising" of a modern paper should bear to the other "news" set forth in its columns.

(The result is staggering to the reporter and editorial pride.)

It has forcibly come to us that, what interests the world most today and has most interested them since the world began, is summed up in—

WHAT TO EAT—WHAT TO WEAR—WHAT TO HAVE IN THE HOME—HOW TO BEST SPEND MONEY TO PROMOTE THE MOST PLEASURE AND HAPPINESS AND COMFORT.

Compared with these great points which vitally concern humanity, the lesser happenings of life are but incidents.

And the person best qualified to interest the people of this city in these matters of most moment are by all means the merchants—the men who are in touch with the world's markets—who know what is being done in the new discoveries and origination of merchandise and food stuffs, to raise standards of living or change modes and styles.

Do the people of this city really appreciate this great truth? Do the merchants appreciate it themselves, is a question this paper has been asking itself and also the question—HOW CAN THIS PAPER HELP bring a closer confidence and sense of mutual understanding and benefit between advertiser and the public?

In answer to this question THIS PAPER HAS SET ASIDE THIS SPACE

for one day each week and has asked the merchants of this city to contribute

(What in their opinion will be their (one) most appealing bargain.)

Moreover, we mean to devote this space one day each week to announcing these "great" bargains. We also mean to protect our merchants and our readers in the sincerity of all offerings, and so we will appoint a competent shopping committee to each week inspect all "best" bargain offerings and decide which is the ONE BEST BARGAIN OF ALL the offerings of the committee to be published in the ad of the week following the insertion of the "best bargain."

42 Merchants Have Responded—some with price cuts, some with "new arrivals," some with style novelties, some with unique organizations, some with offerings possessing more than ordinary appeal to eye, palate, or ear.

This Ad is Bound to Contain many things to interest and appeal to every reader of this paper—many different items at a big saving, many wanted things, many new suggestions; and so, even if you haven't a need, desire or wish unfulfilled at the present time, the reading of this ad and the succeeding ads will be well worth your while in developing your discernment, just for the interest and satisfaction of determining in advance in your own mind the "bargain" which the committee will select as "best," your faculty for picking out real bargains when you see them and also because these announcements from every point of view are bound to make

The most interesting reading of any page in today's paper

Did you read and respond to that bargain page—you certainly missed the most interesting reading in the paper if you happened to overlook it—But here is another—just as brimful of interest to you—read every special—perhaps the very item you need most is set forth here the most extraordinary offering on the page.

WOMAN'S PAGE

HEART AND HOME TALKS BY BARBARA ROYD

One of the Helps to an Artistic Home.

IN planning a restful and attractive home, the wall-papers play an important part. They should be taken into account when designing the treatment of a room, and looked upon as part of the furnishings, quite as much as rugs and draperies.

To secure the most artistic effects, the walls should, as a rule, be considered simply as backgrounds; and should be quiet and unobtrusive, and blend harmoniously with the other furnishings. Now and then for the sake of variety, a wall-paper may be very individual and striking. But in this case, the paper should dominate the furnishings. It should be the keynote, and the other things play up to it. But this should really only be done in a large house, and when furnishings and wall-paper can be changed as soon as the eye tires of them. In a small house, where an entire floor is often seen at a glance, or in the home where furnishings and papering must remain unchanged for years, so pronounced a style is not advisable. One of these striking effects much sooner than of unobtrusive styles.

One of the most artistic wall papers is the Japanese grass cloth. It is particularly good for the hall, though it can be used in the other rooms of the first floor. Indeed, a most delightful effect is secured, especially in small houses, by papering the whole first floor throughout with the same paper; sometimes in the same color, sometimes in various shades of the same color. As the eye wanders from one room to another, there is no break in the color harmony, no intrusion of a jarring note.

This grass cloth is very good for this purpose. It is soft, rich, neutral in coloring. It has an irregular, rough weave which adds a depth to its color that has a high decorative value in itself, and enhances the furnishing value of pictures and other articles.

The textile papers, or papers in fabric effects, are also very good, both for the hall and the other rooms of the first floor. In choosing these, select such patterns as give the effect of depth of coloring.

The foliage and scenic papers give charming results in the dining room, if a change from the plain effects is desired.

For the bedrooms, two-toned striped or figured papers with a dainty floral border are most artistic. Though lighter and daintier than the papers for the first floor, bedroom papers of this character are still unobtrusive, and make good backgrounds for pictures and draperies.

For the best effects, the walls should not be cut up too much with lines and panels. There should be nothing to distract the eye from the pictures or furnishings. All should blend harmoniously.

It is not always possible when renting a house, to get the kind of wall papering one wants, but if building or repapering, then one can gratify one's taste. And if these points are borne in mind when choosing wall paper, the results will have satisfactory furnishing value. And since the right wall paper helps so much in giving a restful charm to the home, it pays sometimes to repaper rather than to endure, papering that constantly assaults the eye with inharmonious and discord.

The Evening Chit-Chat BY RUTH CAMERON

IF A FRIEND of yours should throw open his door as you passed his house and call to you to come in and see something he wanted to show you, don't you think it would be very rude to pass right on without paying the slightest attention?

And yet how many people pass by conversational open doors in just this way.

You mention some name in the course of a conversation and your companion says nonchalantly, "He did me a mighty good turn once."

Or you pass through some street, or some particular locality is mentioned, and your friend remembers, "I had a very unpleasant experience right near here."

Or you are talking of dogs and someone declares, "I have mighty good reason to hate that kind of dogs."

Now all these little remarks are conversational open doors.

In the doorway stands your friend beckoning you to enter and see what he has ready for your interest behind that open door.

Now which are you going to do?

Are you going to respond to "He did me a mighty good turn once" by saying, "Did he?" or "Yes, he's a fine man," or by making some such short-story remark and passing on to other subjects?

In other words, are you going to slam the conversational door he has opened so hopefully?

Or are you going to say, "Did he? What was it?" or make some similar response which will give him a chance to tell the story with which he is charged?

Remember that if he is a particularly egotistical person, even slamming the door in his face may not purchase exemption for you. Just as likely as not he will open it again and fairly drag you in by reverting to his allusion, and gratuitously offering an explanation of it. And mind you, if he has to do this, even if he is winning his end, he will not forget that he does it in spite of you, and that you did slam the door and try to escape, and he will hold it up against you.

Of course what your friend has behind that door is often very uninteresting. But it takes such a little time to look at it. Surely it is worth while when you consider the pleasure you are giving and the good impression you create.

There is a class of people to whom, however commonplace their intellectual qualifications, everyone likes to talk, and that is the folks who never miss a chance to enter one of these conversational open doors.

It's such a simple way of pleasing folks, isn't it?

Do you think it pays?

Thought for Today By MRS. ROBERT M. LAFOLETTE

"SEEING WASHINGTON."
TWICE have I had the experience of "seeing Washington" for a dollar. The impressions left are as different as if two cities with radically different associations and ideals had been viewed. The great lumbering automobiles were the same, the route the same, the guides were different. The first was a patriotic youth, who recited his well-learned story with real enthusiasm, laying chief emphasis on historic events and the distinguished statesmen who have been a part of Washington's dramatic story. One might smile a little to oneself at the old dilapidated hotels and quaint buildings passed down Pennsylvania Avenue the old dilapidated hotels and quaint buildings were invested with new interest. As we saw Calhoun and Clinton walking hand in hand out of their doors and Clay looking from the windows of his room. As we approached the beautiful—always beautiful—Capitol, we saw George Washington laying the corner stone.

Since that first trip I never got down F Street without seeing the alley through which Wilkes Booth escaped from Ford's Theatre after the assassination of Lincoln. And as I cross Tenth Street I always see with quivering heart beat, the flag over the house where Lincoln died the morning after he was carried from the theatre across the way.

On the second trip the guide's standard was not historic or dramatic values but financial. Whether he invited us to look at a public building or a statue, he hurried the price at us. Men were measured by the same test. The patriotism of this man whose duty it was to call attention to the features of rare historic interest in our nation's capital, sounded like a page from Dunne's Financial Directory.

I always advise my friends who are about to take the "seeing Washington" trip to beware of a certain guide.

The Argument.
"When you come to figure in the loss of this temper and my friendship," said Uncle Eben, "it's mighty hard for anybody to say for certain that he has had the best of an argument."

Neighborly, Anyhow.

The KITCHEN CABINET

TO BOIL, or not to boil, that is the question;
Whether 'tis nobler, recklessly to swallow
The germs and toxins or raw lactical

Or to take arms against this sea of microbes,
And by parboiling, end them?

THE DAILY LUNCH BASKET.

To the average woman, "lunch basket" means a picnic and holiday outing, and she does not consider what it means to prepare an appetizing, wholesome meal for a hungry man or lively children. The lunch basket is a great problem. The man who has a couple of ill-made sandwiches and a baker's pie tied up in an old newspaper will not be satisfied, and will visit the saloon to please out an unsatisfactory meal. Many women have only themselves to blame for tipping and treating husbands. The man who has a good and satisfying meal has fortified himself against many such temptations.

The harder the labor a man needs to perform to earn his bread, the better and more carefully that bread should be made. The manner in which a lunch is put into the basket or box has a great effect upon the appetite of the eater. See that everything is carefully and daintily packed. Small jars and covered glasses make good receptacles for holding baked beans, baked apples, salad and numerous sauces. These should be tightly closed, as the flavor of foods that are mixed is not always pleasant. Paper napkins may be purchased by the hundred for a few cents, and will save the laundry bill. Remember to buy the pure white, as any color will run when damp, and the color come off on the food. Good, substantial sandwiches are those made with filling of meat put through the meat chopper.

Remember, the laboring man enjoys a meal; prepared lunch as well as the most fastidious, and that he needs a digestible and palatable lunch to keep him able to do his work.

A little surprise in the form of some treat especially liked will be appreciated by the bread winner as well as the children.

A few pieces of chocolate, a ripe pear, or a cream puff—something to tempt the appetite is always a delight.

UNDER-NUTRITION.

Under-feeding is not common, but under-nutrition is very common. Its most serious result being rickets and nervous diseases in children and consumption in the middle-aged. The food is not often insufficient, even among the poorest, but it is unwisely selected. The commonest mistake of all classes is that flesh meat is essential or that that element of food gives strength especially, when there is more "strength" in beans, whole-wheat or rye bread, milk, cheese, uncooked peanuts, macaroni and most other foods, if they are not spoiled in the keeping or in preparation, chiefly by over-cooking. An illustrated course of popular lectures on proper feeding, in the large cities, would do more to lower the death rate from consumption than the means now employed.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

THE FIRST GERMAN RAILROAD.

By A. W. MACY.

The oldest railroad in Germany is one of the shortest railway lines in the world. The Ludwig railway, connecting the cities of Furth and Nuremberg, is just three and three-quarter miles long, and has never been extended. It was conceived by Johannes Scharrer, a wealthy hop merchant. The first trip was made November 21, 1835, the train consisting of five cars, carrying 90 passengers. Time, about 12 minutes, only half the power of the locomotive being used. Two weeks later trains began running regularly, and the road has been in successful operation ever since. The company owns eight locomotives, 35 passenger cars and six baggage and freight cars. There are about 90 employees.

AN UP-TO-DATE COSTUME.

Everywhere and on every sort of frock one sees fringe, and unless it is run to death, blue for to be the most popular trimming for street and evening gowns. Even the tailored coat suits are fringed trimmed, and our sketch today illustrates the use of a coat and skirt costume of purple and green shot silk, which, in addition to the fringe, has trimming bands of black velvet put on as indicated. The velvet collar is braided with black silk soutache.

MODISH AFTERNOON GOWN.

For afternoon teas, luncheons, etc., this is a charming suggestion. The underskirt and tulle in front are made from blue and gray shot silk, while bodice and top of skirt are richly embroidered gray netting. The tulle effect is a new innovation, taking the place of the now-worn separate panel. A large yellow rose makes a pretty finish at waist line on left side.

HANDKERCHIEF DAG IN THE WALLACHIAN EMBROIDERY.

A charming Christmas gift is a row hem. The Wallachian stitch is a handkerchief bag worked on white or close buttonhole with the pointed edge colored linen in the Wallachian stitch, brought to the outside of the pattern. The front and flap are given. The flap is started in the middle, about back is exactly like the front, with slightly toward the lower part of the central design omitted. The flap is joined to the back and falls over buttonhole. The dots are worked as the opening between the front and French knots. The bag is finished by back which are buttonhole together with cords or other side which are around the sides and lower part. The attached for a hook for the belt. Mer-front is finished at the top by a narrow, creased cotton No. 18 is used.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Sour Milk in Cookery.—Proportions of Soda Used.—Reliable Recipes.

By Alice E. Whitaker.

Cooks experienced in the use of sour milk make some of the very best sweet cakes. In the city kitchen sour milk is not frequently used because there is seldom enough milk taken to have any left over. Then it must not be forgotten that milk pasteurized at a high temperature may not thicken until it has reached a putrefactive state, and unless raw or properly pasteurized milk is used, it is better not to try sour milk cookery.

It is not enough that milk tastes sour to make it fit for use in cooking, for it must be thick and the shorter time that it takes to reach this state the better. Old sour milk that tastes bitter is not fit for food. Sour milk for cooking should have reached such a degree of acidity that it is thick like a jelly, but not so old as to curdle. If the sour milk is full of bubbles, or air holes, the milk was not clean, and contains an excessive amount of microbes, some gas forming bacteria.

One of the most common ways of making a dough light is by means of an acid acting on an alkali. This is done by combining soda and cream of tartar, as in baking powder, or with sour milk, molasses, lemon juice and vinegar. Soda begins to effervesce with the slightest moisture and this is why it is better generally to first sift the dry and mix the liquid ingredient and then combine the two quickly.

Old cooks sometimes dissolve soda in a little cold water before adding it to dough, but even with the greatest care occasionally their bread and cakes are slightly spotted. An older custom was to dissolve the soda in hot water, when a lively effervescence would take place. Then it was added to sour milk and the formation of gas further increased, before mixing with the flour. If bicarbonate of soda, which is the grade used today, was treated in this way the dough would scarcely be light; the old grade of alkali, termed saleratus, was comparatively crude and it was better to waste some of its strength before using.

Soda and lemon juice react so quickly that the soda should be added at the last item before it is placed in the oven.

With good milk, made partially sour until it is thick, the following proportions are correct for its use. Make all measurements level. One teaspoon of soda to one pint of thick, sour milk; one teaspoon of soda to one cup of molasses for butters; and one half teaspoon for doughs; one-quarter teaspoon of soda to two tablespoons of lemon juice.

Excellent results are often gained by using equal parts of baking powder and soda with buttermilk, and with some kinds of molasses, because there is not sufficient acidity in either to react on the usual amount of soda.

Sometimes there is on hand what cooks call a little dab of sour cream. If there is half a cup, use it for cookies. Mix the cream, one unbroken egg, one cup of sugar, one-half level teaspoon of salt and two cups of flour sifted twice with one-quarter level teaspoon of soda. Add one-half teaspoon of vanilla and beat all together until creamy and add as much more flour as needed to make a dough stiff enough to form into small balls. Lay these some distance apart on a buttered pan, or cookie sheet, and press out one-quarter inch thick with the top of a baking powder can dipped in flour.

Gold Dust a Necessity in Every Dairy

Nothing absorbs impurities so quickly as milk. To insure healthful milk and butter, absolute cleanliness is necessary. All milk bottles, strainers, etc., should first be rinsed with cold water to remove the new milk; which would curdle in hot water. Then wash in warm water to which a tablespoon of Gold Dust washing powder has been added, rinse and scald thoroughly with hot water, then leave in the air and run for at least twelve hours before they are used again. Have plenty of cloths, washing these in the Gold Dust suds, same as the utensils.

tender, sift enough pastry flour into two cups of sour milk to make a stiff drop batter, using as much as needed by the thickness of the milk. Let this stand over night, then add one beaten egg, a pinch of salt and two thirds level teaspoon of soda dissolved in one teaspoon of cold water. Beat hard and cook at once on hot griddle.

To make a sour cream cake, break two eggs into a cup and fill the cup with sour cream. Turn into a bowl and beat very light and then add one cup of sugar and beat again. Sift one-half level teaspoon of soda with one and one-half cups of flour and add with any flavoring preferred. Bake in a shallow pan.

REV. HAZEN PREACHES SERMON ON PRISONS

NUMBER OF PRISONS IN THE

PREVENTION VS. CURE

Work of Men And Women in Helping Criminals During or After Imprisonment Is Most Successful.

"The Prison Problem, 1910," was the subject of a strong sermon yesterday, given by Rev. J. C. Hazen at the Baptist church. In part his words were: "What have we to do with these men and women who have gotten themselves into prison through their own evil actions? We can enjoy the beauties of nature and the pleasures on all sides of us just the same. These thousands of criminals are merely reaping what they have sown and are now taking the consequences of their attitude toward the laws of society. But the churches all over the country observe a prison day in order that sympathy may be aroused among the people who are at liberty for those unfortunate who through ignorance or circumstance have brought themselves to the place where they must be confined to preserve the safety of the rest of humanity. This day also is to interest us in the conditions which brought the convicts to prison so that we may help to improve those conditions. Besides, as we consider the offenses for which they are confined and realize the feeling of being guilty of such crimes we more fully appreciate our own liberty and freedom to mix with society at will."

"There are two main divisions of prisoners; first, those whose trials were made notorious by the quantity of money spent to release them and by the fact that they were well known. Harry Thaw and John L. Walsh are men of this type—men of high social standing before their crimes were found out. Then there are the untold thousands of men and women who may be styled common criminals. There are in the State of Ohio alone eighty-eight county jails beside the state penitentiaries and city lock-ups. Considering the fact that there are nearly fifty states in the union, many of them larger than Ohio, the number of prisoners in this country seems appalling."

As we look at the question and study it we come to the conclusion that the greatest lesson to be derived from the condition of these people is that we should cultivate the highest and profoundest reverence for first, human, and then divine law. God punishes those who break His laws in various ways. Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord.

"But as long as the conditions are thus what can we do to aid them after they get free from the prison? The common tendency is to put the inebriate on a jailbird in all phases. F. H. Meyer, a minister in London, England, realizing the condition of affairs there, secured permission to talk to the prisoners released each morning. In this manner he radically changed the lives of several thousand men who might otherwise have left that one prison with merely a hatred for society in general and a determination to make it pay for their arrest. In this country Mattie Booth of the Salvation Army began working in the prisons trying to improve the conditions there. A man in Chicago started in making visits every day to the prison street police station and talking with the prisoners. Out of fifteen thousand men and women whom he talked to in a year, eight thousand are known to have been greatly aided in changing their lives and it cannot be told how many more were affected who did not show it."

"As conditions are today, first everything must be done to convert the criminals as they are in prison or as they come out and then at the same time unceasing effort must be made to save the rising generation before they come to the point where they must be locked up to safeguard society."

NOVEMBER WEATHER TO AVERAGE WARMER

Forecast Given by Foster Bureau Indicates a Number of Storm Waves During First Days.

(Copyrighted 1911 by W. T. Foster.)

The last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross the continent November 4 to 8, and a warm wave 3 to 7, cool wave 6 to 10. The features of this form wave that will attract attention and be of interest will be the continued high temperatures, the frequent showers and threatening rain, accompanied by stormy winds and severe weather.

You must not expect these radical weather events to occur at all places. These bulletins are read on all parts of this continent and to understand the forecasts you must follow the weather features across the continent and expect the weather event forecasted to occur in connection with the forward movements of the weather changes forecasted.

The next disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about Nov. 8, and cross the Pacific slope by the close of the 9th; great Central valleys 10th to 12th; eastern sections 13th. A warm wave will cross the Pacific slope about Nov. 8th; great Central valleys 10th; eastern section 12th. A cool wave will cross the Pacific slope about Nov. 11th; great Central valleys 13th; and eastern section 15th.

Temperatures of this disturbance will average about normal, but the cool wave following will cause much colder weather than the cool wave preceding, both of which are described above. The cool wave following will be a cold wave north of latitude 38 degrees. The term "cold wave" means that temperatures will fall 20 degrees or more within twenty-four hours and go down to the frost line or to freezing weather.

This disturbance will cause rains in many sections and north of latitude 38 degrees the rains will turn to snow as the cool wave comes in. This weather period will not be a good time for harvesting but it will be good for winter grain and in preparing the soil for next year's crops.

The cotton states are always interested in the first killing frosts. The top of the cotton plant continues to grow and make good cotton long after the lower part has been plighted, so an early frost cuts the cotton crop short, while very late frosts tend to larger cotton yields. I am expecting killing frosts in large sections of the cotton belt from Nov. 11 to 15. In the extreme south the killing frosts will come Nov. 22 to Dec. 2.

Incidents are that November will average warmer than usual and that more than usual rain may be expected. But in Texas and southern parts of the cotton states, less than usual rain is expected. The Plains states will be deficient in moisture. Less than usual rain between the Hudson river and the Alleghenies and north of Washington and Philadelphia.

November crop weather will be favorable to all winter grain, but not generally favorable to marketing products from crops; too much rain for moving grain. High temperatures will prevail the first ten days of November, and from the 10th to the 22nd, colder than usual near Nov. 15 and 20.

All readers of this paper should have one of Foster's weather maps on which all sections of the continent are plainly marked and this is a great aid in understanding the forecasts. That may be mailed to all readers of this paper on receipt of stamp. Address: Foster's Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C.

There has always been difficulty in finding a material for flooring which will successfully withstand the grinding action of a constant procession of persons over it, as at the entrances of large railroad stations, but a French inventor has devised a combination of concrete and carborundum which has been experimented with in Paris, and the results have been found to be superior to anything else which has been devised for the purpose. THE ULTIMATE CONSUMER.

The ultimate consumer is a pigeon-toed producer of plucked pennies entirely surrounded by congressional hot air. He is usually portrayed in the pleading role of the goat. When over a politician sets out to cop a certificate of election, he wags a forbidding forefinger and a bunch of chin whiskers in the direction of the politician and the dead is done. One of the most improving sights in this materialistic age is that of a pure-hearted candidate for office waving the red flag of 88 sugar before a crowd of ultimate consumers with pop eyes and a general thirst. The hope of this republic is in the open-mouthed patriot who backs up against the Stars and Stripes and struts the ultimate consumer until he can't tell the wool schedule from the Looming Tower of Pisa. Every man is an ultimate consumer until he mortgages his home for a green rumbust and a full dress suit, after which he becomes a blatted masquerade and quits asking the price of store eggs. The man who can make $12 a week reach around the appetites of twelve corn-fed children with a man like a hot-air furnace is the real ultimate consumer, and he makes the average captain of industry look as cheap as a bow-legged tinner in court costume.

THEIR SINGING HARD LABOR

People of Star Island, Says Colla Thaxter, Grind Out Sounds With Tremendous Exertion.

Among people of average musical ability there is less singing than there used to be. Nearly everybody enjoys singing, and there was a time when nearly everybody was expected, on occasion, to sing. But from different causes—a more exacting standard, the rivalry of the phonograph, and other reasons—amateur singers are fewer than they were. It is a matter for regret from one point of view, and from another for rejoicing.

In a recently published letter, Colla Thaxter tells how some of the Star Island folks, during her long residence at the Isles of Shalish, used to sing.

"Their singing," she declared, "was truly astonishing. Indeed, I might say, exasperating. They go at it precisely as if they were sawing wood, and grind out the sounds with such exertion that their faces become crimson and their perspiration stands in beads on their foreheads."—Youth's Companion.

Taking Up Our Cross.

The cross is to be met with in little things as well as in great things; in the little details of daily life; in our conduct with our friends; in the daily subjection of our creaturely will; in the turning aside from those attractions which lead us out of the way of duty or the path of privilege; in the continual preference of that which savors of God to that which savors of man; in always putting his will first and our own will second; in never doing a thing merely because it pleases us to do it, nor shrinking from doing anything because it is painful, but in ever endeavoring to be guided by the desire to become conformed unto the nature of him who is our leader. It is in such little things as these that the cross is to be taken up.—Rev. W. M. Hay, Aiken.

Let your spiritual life be formed by your duties and by the actions which are called forth by circumstances. Do not take over-much thought for the morrow. Be altogether at rest in loving, holy confidence.—Francis de Sales.

Mind and Appearance.

Actresses are usually warm-hearted, sensible and cheerful. That is because they make the best of themselves in face and form. An old saying is true, "The face is often a reflex of the mind," and in a measure it is no less true that the mind is a reflex of the face.

Every Little OliveTabletHas a Movement "All Its Own"

Your doctor will tell you ninety percent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Portsmouth, Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities.

All druggists sell these olive oil colored tablets at 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Co., Portsmouth, Ohio, or Columbus, Ohio. Dr. P. M. Edwards, Pres.

INTEREST OF JANESVILLE AND VICINITY CENTERS ON GREAT PRIZE CAMPAIGN

PUBLICATION OF LIST OF NAMES AWAKENED ENTHUSIASM OF THE FRIENDS OF THOSE WHO ARE NOMINATED
—STILL TIME TO NOMINATE.

BALLOT BOX NOW INSTALLED AT GAZETTE OFFICE—SAVE EVERY NOMINATION BLANK AND COUPON—
OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL EIGHT O'CLOCK.

The wonderful interest already manifested in The Gazette's prize campaign is daily growing in extent and volume.

The announcement of candidates in Saturday's issue was a pleasant surprise. Those named feel the honor conferred upon them and are organizing with their friends for the purpose of winning the most magnificent array of prizes ever offered by any newspaper in this section of the state.

The success of this great campaign is already assured, and The Gazette is highly pleased with the enthusiasm with which this great event is received.

The campaign is short. It closes in less than seven weeks, but many exciting and startling changes may occur in the fortunes of the different candidates during this space of time.

The campaign resembles a political campaign, but it will be far more exciting and profitable to all concerned as no one is to lose.

This issue contains the names of all candidates received up to date; the nomination blanks will appear for a few more days only, so act quickly and nominate yourself or friend before it's too late.

Stop and think of these magnificent prizes offered. You can win an Overland touring car, an elegant Schiller piano, a beautiful diamond ring, a scholarship or a 15-jewel (18-kt. or white) watch, just as easily as any other young lady. One point that the management of the campaign wishes to make clear is that every candidate receives a prize. If you do not receive one of the thirteen beautiful prizes you will receive a cash commission of 5 per cent of the money you collect. So there will be no disappointed ones at the close of this campaign.

The rules and conditions are not hard to understand but read them carefully and do not be timid about asking the campaign manager questions. This is what he is for and his time belongs to you. Upon request, by letter or telephone, full particulars regarding this great event, will be mailed to you.

Not money, but popularity and honest approval of the candidates and friends, win these prizes. Please call and have this important point thoroughly explained.

Remember candidates, that each and every nomination blank voted bearing your name adds twenty-five votes to your credit, so ask your friends to save the nomination blanks for you as well as the coupons.

Do not get discouraged because some one else has a few more votes than you have—this is just the beginning and a little effort put forth on your part will put you in the lead in the next issue.

Ballot Box.

The ballot box was installed, this morning, at The Gazette office, where all coupons and nomination blanks may be deposited. Votes sent by mail will also find their way into the ballot box.

Open Evenings.

For the benefit of those who can not call during regular office hours, the campaign department will remain open until 8 p. m. each week day evening.

Subscription Books.

Candidates and their friends are privileged to accept payments on subscriptions and in order that they may receive for such payments we will provide them with a receipt book if they will inform the campaign department.

CLEAN HOUSE ALL AT ONCE

Best Way If Family Can Be Banned
—Hints on the Spring Ordeal.

"The easiest way to clean house is to do it all at once, turning everything upside down, having all carpets taken up at the same time, all the windows washed in succession, all the paint scrubbed in one place of work. If the family can be banished, this plan may be followed, but when the ordinary business of the home has to go on, such drastic measures should never be practiced. The house should be cleaned a room at a time, but before going to these make an attack on the closets," says Christine Terhune Herrick in Woman's Home Companion.

"Devote one day to the china closet. Take the china and glass out, put it on a table and scour the shelves. Have a blow-gun and inject insect powder into any cracks or crevices of the shelves as a discouragement to invading insects. Wipe off every piece of tableware before you put it back and discard ruthlessly broken and cracked pieces.

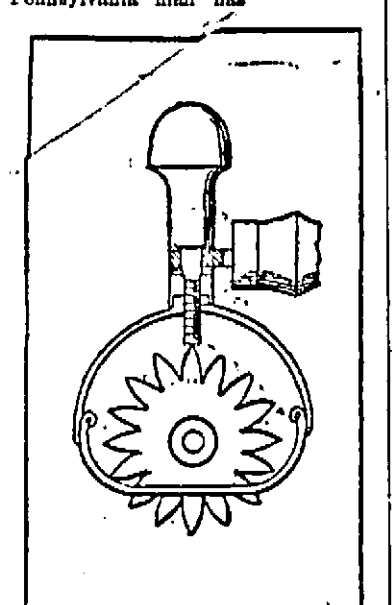

"When you put your china on the shelves use care in its arrangement. Tall pieces should go at the back, and so should piles of saucers and plates. Be careful not to make the piles of plates too tall. Plates of delicate china at the bottom of a stack may be cracked and broken by the weight of the china upon them. Turn the glasses and tumblers upside down.

"Go over the contents of your sideboard, especially the table linen, laying aside such pieces as need mending and are worth it and putting the hopelessly worn objects aside with your store of old linen. Wipe out the sideboard drawers and let them get entirely dry before laying in fresh papers and restoring the linen to its place. Use the insect powder here, too."

THIS MAKES MEAT TENDER

Implement With Cutter Wheels Which, Rolled Over a Steak, Loosen Up the Fibers.

Even the best of butcher shops sometimes have tough meat, and at the other shops it is a toss-up whether you get a good steak or not, unless you are willing to pay fancy prices. A Pennsylvania man has invented an Implement for making meat tender that will be found useful in any family, but especially in households that cannot afford to buy the choicest cuts. A handle with a fork to it has a shaft running through the ends of the fork. Revolving on this shaft are a lot of sharp little cutter wheels, with teeth that will bite through sole leather, if necessary. When a steak is found to be too tough, the cook can lay it on the kitchen table before putting it on to be fried or broiled and run this implement back and forth over it until the fibers have been loosened sufficiently to make it tender. There are other devices for this purpose, among them a hammer with sharp projections in the head, but the wheels are said to have the advantage of penetrating all the way through an ordinary steak and doing the work more rapidly.

Improved Cheese Cakes.

Two cups of cheese, one cup of sugar, one-fourth cup of melted butter, one lemon rind and juice, one salt spoon of salt, one-half cup of milk or cream, three eggs beaten separately, then beaten all together well, adding stiff whites last. Line pans with rich pastry. Bake like a custard. This recipe fills a deep squash pie plate. To be eaten cold. Grate nutmeg over the top before baking.

Burns.

In treating all kinds of burns it is important to exclude the outside air as soon as possible.

MISS MINERVA and WILLIAM GREEN HILL

By FRANCES BOYD CALHOUN

CHAPTER X.

Lo! The Poor Indians. Billy had just decided to run down to the livery stable to pay Sam Lamb a visit when the gate opened, and Lina and Frances, their beloved dolls in their arms, came skipping in. Jimmy, who had had a difference with Billy and was in the sulks on his own side of the fence, immediately climbed over and joined the others in the swing. He was lonesome and the prospect of companionship was too alluring for him to nurse his anger longer.

"Aunt Minerva's gone to the Aid Society," remarked the host. "Don't y' all wish it met ev'ry day 'til 'er Jos' meetin' ev'ry Monday?"

"Yes, I do," agreed Frances, "you can have so much fun when our mamas go to the Aid. My mama's gone too, so she left me with Brother and he's writing a love letter to Ruth Shelton, so I slipped off."

"Mother has gone to the Aid, too," said Lina.

"My mama too," chimed in Jimmy, "she goes to the Aid every Monday and to card parties nearly all the time. She told Sarah Jane to 'tend to me and Sarah Jane's asleep. I hear her snoring. Ain't we glad there ain't no grown folks to meddle? Can't we have fun?"

"What'll we play?" asked Frances, who had deliberately stepped in a mud puddle on the way, and splashed mud all over herself. "Let's make mud pies."

"Now, we ain't a-going to make no mud pies," objected Jimmy. "We can make mud pies all the time when grown folks 'r looking at you."

"Let's play stumpin' what we ain't never play, sense we's born," put in Billy.

"I hope grandmother won't miss me," said Lina, "she's reading a very interesting book."

"Let's plan Injun!" yelled Jimmy; "we ain't never play Injun."

This suggestion was received with howls of delight.

"My mama's got a box of red stuff that she puts on her face when she goes to card parties. She never puts none on when she just goes to the Aid. I can run home and get the box to make us red like Injuns," said Frances.

"My mother has a box of paint, too."

"I ain't never see Aunt Minerva put no red stuff on her face," remarked Billy, disappointedly.

"Miss Minerva, she don't never let the Major come to see her, nor go to no card parties, is the reason," explained the younger boy, "she just goes to the Aid where they ain't no men, and you don't hatter put no red on your face at the Aid. We'll let my mama's got 'bout a million different kinds."

"We got to have pipes," was Frances's next suggestion.

"My papa's got 'bout a million 'pipes,' boasted Jimmy, "but he got 'em to the office, I spee'."

"Father has a meerschaum."

"Aunt Minerva ain't got no pipe," said Lina, "she's 'bout the curliest woppon they is," said Jimmy; "she low satin lining. She had dragged one corner of it through the mud puddle and torn a big rent in another place. Jimmy was glorious in a bright red blanket, carrying his little bow and arrow.

"I'm going to be the Injun chief," he boasted.

"I'm going to be an Injun chief, too," parroted Frances.

"Chief, nothing!" he sneered, "you all trying to be an Injun chief. You 'bout the pompous little girl they is. You can't be a chief now; you got to be a squaw, Injun ladies 'r name's squashes; no an' Billy's the chief, I'm name's old Settlin' Bull, himself."

"You can't be named 'Bull,' Jimmy," reproved Lina. "It isn't genteel to say 'bull' before people."

"Yes, I am too," he continued. "Settlin' Bull's the biggest chief they is and I'm going to be name's him."

"Well, I am not going to play then," said Lina primly. "my mother wants me to be genteel, and 'bull' is not genteel."

"I tell you what, Jimmy," proposed Frances, "you be name's 'Settlin' Cow.' 'Cow' is genteel 'cause folks milk 'em."

"Now, I ain't going to be name's no cow, neither," retorted the little Indian, "you all time trying to 'snead somebody to be name's 'Settlin' Cow.'"

"He can't be name's a cow," Billy now entered the discussion. "cows no ain't no girl. Why don't you be name's 'Settin' Steer'? Is 'steer' genteel, Lina?" he anxiously inquired.

"Yes, he can be named 'Settin' Steer'," she granted. Jimmy agreeing to the compromise, peace was once more restored.

"Frances and Lina got to be the squashes," he began.

"It isn't 'squashes,' it is 'squaws,'" corrected Lina.

"Yes, 'tis squashes too," persisted Jimmy, "because it's in the Bible and Miss Cecelia explained it to me and she's 'bout the highest-placed 'splainer they is. Mo and Billy is the chiefs," he shouted, enquiring around, "and you and Frances is the squashes and got to have papoosees strop' to your back."

"Dennie Dick can be a papoose," suggested Billy.

"I'm not going to be an Injun squaw if I got to have a nigger papoose strapped to my back," cried an indignant Frances. "You can strap him to your own back, Billy."

"But I ain't no squaw," objected that little Indian.

"We can have our dolls for papoosees," said Lina, going to the swing where the dolls had been left. Billy pulled a piece of string from his pocket and the babies were safely strapped to their mothers' backs. With steady tread, headed by Settlin' Steer, the children marched back and forth across the lawn in Indian file.

So absorbed were they in playing Indian that they forgot the sight of time until their chief suddenly stopped, all his brave valor gone as he pointed with trembling finger up the street.

That part of the Ladies' Aid Society which lived in West Covington was bearing down upon them.

"Yonder's our mamas and Miss Minerva," he whispered. "Now look what a mess Billy's done got us in; he all time got to peruse something to get chillens in trouble and he all time got to let grown folks ketch 'em."

"Aren't you ashamed to tell such a story, Jimmy Garner?" cried Frances. "Billy didn't propose any such thing."

"Tain't no use to run," advised Jimmy. "They're too close and done already see us. We bound to get what's coming to us anyway, so you might jus' as well make 'em think you ain't 'fraid of 'em. Grown folks got to all time think little boys and girls 'r skeered of 'em, anyhow."

"Aunt Minerva'll sho' put me to bed this time," said Billy. "Looks like ev'ry day I gatter go to bed."

"Mother will make me study the catechism all day tomorrow," said Lina dismally.

"Mama'll lock me up in the little closet under the stairway," said Frances.

"My mama'll gimme 'bout a million licks and try to take all the hide off me," said Jimmy; "but we done had a heap of fun."

It was some hours later. Billy's aunt had ruthlessly clipped the turkey feathers from his head, taking the hair off in great patches. She had then boiled his scalp, so the little boy thought, in her efforts to remove the mucklago. Now, shorn of his locks and of some of his courage, the child was sitting quietly by her side, listening to a superior moral lecture and indulging in a compulsory heart-to-heart talk with his relative.

"I don't see that it does you any good, William, to put you to bed."

"I don't see as it do neither," agreed Billy.

"I can not whip you; I am constitutionally opposed to corporal punishment for children."

"I believe I will hire a servant, so that I may devote my entire time to your training."

This prospect for the future did not appeal to her nephew. On the contrary it filled him with alarm.

"A husband 'd be another slight handler," he declared with energy; "he'd be a heap mo' count to you'n a cook, Aunt Minerva. There's that Major."

"You will never make a preacher of yourself, William, unless you improve."

The child looked up at her with astonishment; this was the first he knew of his being destined for the ministry.

"A preacher what 'zorts an' calls up mourners?" he said, "not on yo' thud-type. Mo an' Wilkes Booth Lincoln—"

"How many times have I expressed the wish not to have you bring that negro's name into the conversation?" she impatiently interrupted.

"I don't peractly know, 'm," he answered good humoredly, "bout fifty hundred, I reckon. Anyways, Aunt Minerva, I ain't goin' to be no preacher. When I puts on long pants I's goin' to be a Confedrit Yell-run an' kill 'bout fifty hundred Yankees an' Injuns, like my Major man."

Onion Hard to Trace.

The onion has been so long in cultivation that its original form is not definitely known. There are so-called wild onions that grow in the woods. Nobody ever tastes them but once, and there is about the taste no suggestion that cultivation or anything else could ever make them grateful to the human palate. In all probability the onion is a native of western Asia and adjacent parts of Africa, since it is mentioned in old Egyptian writings and the Pentateuch.

Literary Note.

There's a big difference between the book bug and the book worm. The book bug lays the book and then hatches it and the book worm devours it if he doesn't get sick after his first bite.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and was cured."

Huntington, Mass.—"I was in a nervous, run-down condition and for three years could not do anything. I gave my present good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier which I believe saved my life."

My doctor knows what helped me and does not say one word against it."

—Mrs. MARI JASPERE BATES, Box 124, Huntington, Mass.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

Huntington, Mass.—"I was in a nervous, run-down condition and for three years could not do anything. I gave my present good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier which I believe saved my life."

My doctor knows what helped me and does not say one word against it."

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

Musterole Means Mustard Oil—

Combined with other simples used in home medicine.

It is a clean, pure, white ointment that does all the work of the good old-fashioned mustard plaster—but does it better and without the blister.

MUSTEROLE GIVES ALMOST INSTANT RELIEF FROM ACES, PAINS AND SORENESS, AND NOT A BLISTER REMAINS.

Instead, it has a delicious, comforting, soothing effect.

You simply rub MUSTEROLE on briskly and the pain is gone!

MUSTEROLE is so penetrating that it enters the pores at once, stops the sharp twinges—brings ease and complete relief—and breaks up the congestion.

Mustard has been a family remedy for centuries.

THE MUSTEROLE COMPANY, Cleveland, Ohio

I am prescribing MUSTEROLE. Several people keep it constantly in their homes.

Votes issued to one candidate cannot be changed to the credit of another candidate.

A committee of four Janesville bankers and the candidates themselves, will be chosen to judge the finish of this prize campaign, and will assemble for that purpose after the close of the campaign.

The winning of these valuable prizes is a QUESTION OF VOTES. Read the article—How to Obtain Votes.

How to Obtain Votes

Votes are given on all subscription payments, both new and old, according to this scale.

Any person, home or office, taking The Gazette at the beginning of this campaign, will be classed as an old subscriber. All others will be classed as new.

Contestants are not restricted to getting votes or subscriptions in their own particular district or territory, but may secure subscriptions, nomination blanks and coupons in any part of Janesville and vicinity.

Votes can not be purchased. They are given only on subscription payments to The Gazette.

Names of candidates were published last Saturday. Still time to send in your name.

Beginning last Tuesday, each issue of The Gazette will contain a coupon counting 10 votes. These may be filled out with the name of any candidate and; when sent to The Daily Gazette office, will each add 10 votes to her published count. Any person may vote them for any candidate or a candidate may vote them for herself. Each coupon bears a date and must be voted before the expiration of that date.

Each time a candidate is nominated or each time a nomination blank is received in favor of a candidate it will add an additional 25 votes to her published standing. Each candidate should have her friends save all the nomination blanks as well as coupons that appear in their copies of The Gazette. After a candidate is once nominated all that is necessary, on the blank, is the candidate's name.
